1 BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF GUAM:

1           Section 1. Legislative Findings and Intent.           I Liheslaturan Guåhan

2 finds that it is in the best interest of the community to protect children from 3 abandonment. In response to a highly-publicized case of a baby abandoned on the 4 doorsteps of a home in the village of Dededo in 2018, Guam Public Law 34-120 was 5 enacted, offering a protected, legal alternative to unsafe infant abandonment. Under 6 the law, an unharmed newborn infant, up to thirty (30) days old, may be handed to 7 authorized personnel at a hospital, fire station, free-standing birthing center, or 8 community health center. The mother will not be subject to arrest for abandonment, 9 provided that she relinquishes the child to authorized personnel and that no abuse or 10 neglect has occurred.

11           I Liheslaturan Guåhan duly notes that cases of child abandonment are often 12 linked to economic hardship, post-natal depression, mental health issues, substance 13 misuse, a lack of sexual health education and family planning, restrictions regarding 14 access to abortion, the child having some form of disability or infection, and 15 pregnancy resulting from rape or abuse. Further, mothers in distress may not have 16 the resources or means of transportation to relinquish their child at an authorized
17 safe haven location. At a moment of crisis, this predicament may compel a mother
18 to discard her infant or leave the child at an unsafe nearby location. Recognizing that 19 mothers in distress should have every available option to ensure their baby is safe
20 and taken care of, I Liheslaturan Guåhan therefore intends to aid those under 21 extenuating circumstances to relinquish custody of their newborn infant while 22 remaining anonymous and protected under the law.

23           I Liheslaturan Guåhan further finds that, under current statute, relinquished
24 infants are placed in foster custody until permanent placement can be arranged—a 25 process which may take months, if not longer, to complete. According to the Bureau
26 of Social Services and Administration, Guam has over two hundred fifty (250)
27 children in foster care and less than fifty (50) licensed foster families.

1        I Liheslaturan Guåhan further finds that, at the time P.L. 34-120 was enacted,
2        Guam did not have non-profit adoption services to aid in placing relinquished infants
3        with pre-approved adoptive homes. Amending custody requirements for infants
4        relinquished under P.L. 34-120 would authorize existing adoption agencies to 5        assume physical custody of the newborn. It is therefore the intent of I Liheslaturan
6        Guåhan to insert adoption agencies identified by Child Protective Services (CPS)
7        into the chain of custody—allowing relinquished infants to be placed in a loving 8        home while easing the burden on Guam’s already-strained foster care system.

9        Section 2. §13502(a) of Article 5, Chapter 13, Title 19, Guam Code
10        Annotated is hereby amended to read:

11        “§ 13502. General Policy.

12        (a) The mother of a newborn infant may relinquish custody of the newborn
13        infant to an authorized Safe Haven by voluntarily surrendering the newborn infant
14        to authorized Safe Haven personnel; provided, that:

15                (1) the infant is thirty (30) days or younger, as determined to a
16                reasonable degree of medical certainty by authorized Safe Haven personnel;

17                (2) the mother expresses no clear intention to return for the newborn 18                infant; and

19                (3) the infant presents no evidence of child abuse that occurred at any 20                time prior to the act of relinquishment.

21        Due to extenuating circumstances, if the mother of a newborn infant is unable 22        to relinquish custody of the newborn infant at an authorized Safe Haven, emergency
23        medical services personnel, as defined in 10 GCA Chapter 84, may take custody of 24        the infant upon the consent of the mother, if the mother dials the 911 emergency call
25        number and stays with the infant until emergency medical services personnel arrive
26        to take custody of the infant. An infant relinquished under this Section must meet 27        the conditions under subsections (a)(1)-(3) of this Section. The dispatch center or

1 the emergency medical services personnel shall inform the infant's mother of the 2 ability to remain anonymous as described in §13504 of this Article."

3 Section 3. §13505 of Article 5, Chapter 13, Title 19 Guam Code Annotated
4 is hereby amended to read:

5 § 13505. Custody.

6 (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an authorized Safe Haven
7 shall assume emergency protective custody of a relinquished newborn infant
8 immediately upon surrender by the mother to authorized Safe Haven personnel
9 affiliated with the authorized Safe Haven, ~~or upon transfer of physical custody by~~ 10 ~~authorized Safe Haven personnel of another authorized Safe Haven that cannot~~ 11 ~~provide necessary emergency medical services,~~ and shall maintain protective
12 custody until custody is assumed by Child Protective Services. The authorized Safe 13 Haven shall transfer physical custody of the relinquished newborn infant to the 14 nearest hospital with an emergency department, pursuant to § 13507(a)(3) of this 15 Article. The hospital shall maintain physical custody of the relinquished newborn
16 infant for forty-eight (48) hours.

17 (b) Child Protective Services shall assume temporary protective custody of 18 the relinquished newborn infant immediately upon receipt of notice under § 19 13507(a)(8) of this Article, and shall take any action authorized under Guam law to 20 achieve safety and permanency for the newborn infant subject to the limitations of 21 this Article.

22 (c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, ~~an authorized Safe Haven~~
23 ~~shall transfer physical custody of the relinquished newborn infant to Child Protective~~ 24 ~~Services as early as possible considering the newborn infant's medical condition as~~ 25 ~~determined to a reasonable degree of medical certainty by a physician.~~

26 (d) ~~Notwithstanding any other provision of law,~~ no court of Guam shall enter
27 an order pertaining to custody of the relinquished newborn infant, and Child

1 Protective Services shall not relinquish temporary protective custody ~~or place the~~ 2 ~~infant into foster custody~~ until:

3 (1) forty-eight (48) hours have elapsed from the time of relinquishment
4 by the mother; and

5 (2) Child Protective Services has reported within forty-eight (48) hours 6 all identifying information known to the agency concerning the infant, except 7 personally identifying information pertaining to the relinquishing mother, to 8 the Guam Police Department for a determination that the infant, based on all 9 available information, has not been reported as a missing person.

10 (d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, Child Protective Services
11 shall contact an adoption agency duly licensed under Guam law to take physical 12 custody of the infant, provided that forty-eight (48) hours have elapsed from the time
13 of relinquishment by the mother, the mother has made no request for reunification
14 to Child Protective Services under § 13506 of this Article, and the infant has not 15 been reported as a missing person. If there are multiple adoption agencies, Child
16 Protective Services shall contact the next adoption agency on a rotating list
17 maintained by Child Protective Services until an agency agrees to take physical 18 custody of the infant. If no agency is identified to take custody, Child Protective 19 Services shall take custody of the infant.

20 (e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the hospital shall transfer
21 physical custody of the infant to the adoption agency identified by Child Protective
22 Services under § 13505(d). If no agency is identified to take custody, Child
23 Protective Services shall take custody of the infant.

24 (e) (f) Rebuttable Presumption. Relinquishment of a newborn infant creates a 25 rebuttable presumption effective forty-eight (48) hours after the time of 26 relinquishment that the mother who relinquishes a newborn infant in accordance

1 with this Article intends to permanently relinquish custody of the newborn infant
2 and consents to termination of parental rights.”

3       Section 4. Effective Date. This Act shall be effective upon enactment.
4 Child Protective Services shall have thirty (30) days from the date of enactment to 5 implement the administrative requirements for the distribution of materials attached
6 hereto as “Exhibit A: General Guidelines for Authorized Safe Havens”; 7 “Exhibit B: Letter to Mother Relinquishing Infant”; “Exhibit C: Medical 8 Information Questionnaire”; and “Exhibit D: Drop-Off Report Form.” All 9 authorized safe havens shall:

10       (a) Ensure staff is familiar with the Act and distribute materials provided by 11 Child Protective Services; and

12       (b) Adopt written policy and procedures in accordance with the provisions of 13 the Newborn Infant Safe Haven Act; and

14       (c) Transmit written policy and procedures in accordance with the provisions
15 of the Newborn Infant Safe Haven Act to the Speaker of I Liheslaturan Guåhan no
16 later than forty-five (45) days from the date of enactment.

17       Section 3. Severability. If any provision of this Act or its application to 18 any person or circumstance is found to be invalid or contrary to law, such invalidity
19 shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Act that can be given effect
20 without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this 21 Act are severable.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORIZED SAFE HAVEN FACILITIES

BACKGROUND

Guam Law (19 GCA § 13502) states that:

“The mother of a newborn infant may relinquish custody of the newborn infant to an authorized Safe Haven by voluntarily surrendering the newborn infant to authorized Safe Haven personnel; provided, that:

- (1) the infant is thirty (30) days or younger, as determined to a reasonable degree of medical certainty by authorized Safe Haven personnel;
- (2) the mother expresses no clear intention to return for the newborn infant; and
- (3) the infant presents no evidence of child abuse that occurred at any time prior to the act of relinquishment.”

Under Guam’s Newborn Infant Safe Haven Act (19 GCA § 13503), the following are Authorized Safe Havens:

- » Hospitals
- » Free-standing Birthing Centers
- » Community Health Centers
- » Fire Departments

If you are an employee working in an Authorized Safe Haven, you may receive an infant at any time, with no prior notice. The following guidelines will help you to carry out your responsibilities in regard to this law.

PREPARATION TO RECEIVE AN INFANT:

- ☐ Ensure that all staff in your facility know about the law and are trained in these guidelines.
- ☐ Familiarize your staff with the Newborn Infant Safe Haven Act packet, including:
  - For your staff:
    - 1. General Procedures for Authorized Safe Havens
    - 2. Drop-Off Report Form
  - For the mother:
    - 1. Letter to Mother Relinquishing Infant
    - 2. Medical Information Questionnaire
    - 3. Health Literature for Birth Mother
    - 4. List of Contact Numbers
- ☐ Ensure that all staff know where the Newborn Infant Safe Haven packet is kept.
- ☐ Post these guidelines in a visible location for staff reference.

WHEN AN INFANT IS BROUGHT TO YOUR FACILITY:

Immediately upon receipt of a newborn (19 GCA, § 13507):

☐ Require authorized medical personnel to perform all reasonable acts to ensure the health and safety of the child including:

1. A preliminary medical screening
2. Necessary stabilizing treatment
3. Checking the infant for any visible signs of abuse.
4. Estimating if the infant is 30-days-old or younger.
  - If the infant shows signs of abuse or appears much older than a 30-day old infant, contact the Guam Police Department and Child Protective Services.
  - If the infant seems to be a newborn and there are no signs of abuse, proceed with the following steps.

☐ Arrange for the immediate transportation of the newborn infant to the nearest hospital with an emergency department.

☐ Retrieve a Newborn Infant Safe Haven Act packet

☐ Give the mother the

1. Dear Parent Letter
2. Medical Information Questionnaire
3. Health Information for Birth Mother
4. List of Contact Numbers

☐ Ask if the mother would fill out a voluntary Medical Information Questionnaire about the infant.

WITHIN THE FIRST TWENTY-FOUR (24) HOURS, YOUR FACILITY MUST:

☐ As soon as possible but no later than twenty-four (24) hours after receiving the newborn, notify Child Protective Services that a newborn infant has been relinquished at your facility.

☐ Record the receipt of the infant on the Drop-Off Report Form.

☐ Provide Child Protective Services with all information the facility has regarding the newborn, including the Drop-Off Report Form and, if received, the Medical Information Questionnaire.

Any subsequent inquiry regarding a relinquished newborn infant should be directed to Child Protective Services.

LETTER TO MOTHER RELINQUISHING INFANT

Dear Birth Parent:

Thank you for giving your baby to a Safe Haven. You have made a difficult but responsible decision. Your baby will be adopted by a family that is waiting for the opportunity to love and care for a child.

Guam law (19 GCA § 13502) says:

- You can leave your unharmed infant, who can be up to 30 days old,
- You can walk away with no questions asked, and
- Remain anonymous and protected from prosecution.

What Happens Now?

If you leave the baby with authorized safe haven personnel, the baby will be transported to a nearby hospital and seen by a doctor.

There is a legal presumption that you are the baby's biological mother, that you consent to the termination of your parental rights and you are relinquishing your baby for adoption.

A check will be done to make sure the baby has not been reported missing. Child Protective Services will contact an adoption agency, which will place the baby with an adoptive family.

Custody and Parental Rights Notice:

If you change your mind within 48 hours, call Child Protective Services at 671-475-2672.

- You must submit a request for reunification to Child Protective Services.
- If you submit a request for reunification, you will waive your right to anonymity and confidentiality, meaning Child Protective Services could identify you and contact you.
- After forty-eight (48) hours, you will have to petition the Superior Court of Guam to prevent final termination of your parental rights.

Your Feelings

It is natural for you to feel sad or depressed right now or later on. We hope you have someone that you can talk to about how you are feeling. If you would like to talk to a professional counselor and don't know how to find one, please call (671) 647-8833/647-8834.

You Can Help Your Child

Your choice to leave your baby in a safe place means that what happens to him or her is important to you. Even if you can't take care of your child, one of the things that you can do is to share important information that will help the people who take care of your child to know what your child needs.

In this packet is a short form called a Medical Information Questionnaire. This form does not ask you to give any information about who or where you are. The information you share will help your child to receive the best care possible. It will become part of your child's permanent social record. It's OK if you don't know all the answers, but whatever you do know will be a big help to both your baby and his or her adoptive family.

You have made an important decision for your baby by giving him or her to a safe place. If you change your mind, please call Child Protective Services as soon as possible at 671-475-2672.

Again, we encourage you to take care of yourself.

Thank you.

The infant you have brought in today may have serious medical needs in the future that we don't know about today. Some illnesses, including cancer, are best treated when we know about family medical histories. In addition, sometimes relatives are needed for lifesaving treatments. To make sure this baby will have a healthy future, your assistance in fully completing this questionnaire is essential. Thank you.
