Relative to recognizing and honoring the late Ellen Ai-Ling Lui Woo for her dedication and longtime service in promoting the relationships between the women of Taiwan and the United States of America; and to further extending I Liheslaturan Guåhan’s (the Guam Legislature’s) condolences to her family, friends and acquaintances on her passing.

BE IT RESOLVED BY I MINA'TRENTAI DOS NA LIHESLATURAN GUÅHAN:

WHEREAS, the late Ellen Ai-Ling Lui Woo was born on October 24, 1926 in Hupeh Province, Republic of China. On December 12, 1956, she married Lan’t Ying-buh Woo; and they had two sons: Warren and Kieran. Ellen graduated in 1949, and she received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Sociology from Ginling College in Nanking, Republic of China; and she received a Master of Arts Degree in Sociology, with a Minor in International Studies from the University of Maryland in the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, Ellen is the eldest daughter of Edward F.T. Ley, and she had looked up to her father for all the good work he had done while working for the government in Taiwan as a teacher, and later as the Head of the Bureau of Education in Chingtao; and for constantly supporting all his children, especially when he would help them set goals for themselves, and help them with the special skills they needed for their future careers, such as public speaking; and

WHEREAS, Ellen and her family moved to Chingtao in 1931. The Sino-Japanese War broke out and her whole family, except for her father, then left Chingtao and went to Hangto, the capital of their native province of Hubei. The war continued and her family moved to Chuking, where she attended elementary school, and she stayed there until she finished college; and

WHEREAS, Ellen and her family escaped from the Communists during the war and they moved to Taiwan, travelling by trains, walking, and by boat. When they arrived in Taiwan, the economic circumstances were better and Ellen’s father worked in a cabinet level position for the government. Ellen worked for the government, too, as part of the staff of the Consulate for the United States, where she served for a year; and she then got a job at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for the Republic of China. Ellen was then transferred to the United States, and was the 3rd Secretary of the Chinese Embassy in Washington, D.C.; and she worked her way up the ranks and was the 1st Secretary from 1960 to 1969, when she dealt with the United Nations and Taiwan, at a time when Taiwan needed the U.S. government’s assistance to keep Taiwan’s seat in the Security Council of the United Nations; and
WHEREAS, in 1970, Ellen was called back to Taiwan, and she worked as the Secretary to the Vice Minister of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. From 1970 to 1971, Ellen worked as the Deputy Director in the Department of North American Affairs in Taiwan, and she dealt with the economic affairs of the United States, and served with workers at the U.S. Embassy in Taipei; and

WHEREAS, from 1972 to 1975, Ellen was assigned to serve as Consul to the Chinese Consulate on Guam. She was the first ever and the only female Chief-of-Mission representing the Republic of China on an international assignment with the rank of Consul-General. Ellen worked directly under the Vice-Foreign Minister, and she helped him work with the heads of the departments in the foreign office, as well as the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Guam, and other officials; and

WHEREAS, from 1975 to 1980, Ellen did similar work in Taiwan; and in 1980, she was assigned to serve as a Senior Advisor in Washington, D.C. During her time there, she worked with American women leaders, she attended meetings of U.S. women organizations, and she organized groups of American women leaders to visit Taiwan; and she had led ten (10) different groups back yearly with the purpose to let U.S. leaders know the situation of the government in Taiwan; and

WHEREAS, from 1980 to 1992, Ellen served as the Senior Advisor for the Taiwan’s Coordination Council for North American Affairs in Washington, D.C.; and she was the senior official in charge of women’s activities; and

WHEREAS, in 1990, Ellen was awarded with the “Presidential New Directions Award,” given by the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women’s Clubs, Inc. She was also honored as the 11th Edition World Who’s Who of Women, and the 9th Edition International Who’s Who of Intellectuals. In her spare time, Ellen enjoys chatting with intimate friends, reading, and playing outdoor sports; and
WHEREAS, Ellen was involved with various clubs and organizations, and she served as the 1st Vice President of the China Tiffin Club in Washington, D.C., from 1982 to 1983, and was member since 1981; she was a member of the Welcome to Washington International Club since 1981; a member of the Women’s International Religious Fellowship since 1981; a member of the Capital Speakers Club in Washington, D.C., since 1982; a member of the Ginling College Alumni Association since 1980; a member of the American Association of Retired Persons since 1981; a member of the Women’s Association of the Taiwan since 1990; and an associate member of the American News Women’s Club in Washington, D.C. since 1981; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that I Mina’Trentai Dos Na Liheisluracion Guåhan does hereby, on behalf of the people of Guam, recognize and honor the late Ellen Ai-Ling Lui Woo for her dedication and longtime service in promoting the relationships between the women of the Taiwan and the United States of America; and does further extend sincere condolences to her family, friends and acquaintances on her passing; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Speaker certify, and the Legislative Secretary attest, to the adoption hereof, and that copies of the same be thereafter transmitted to the family of the late Ellen Ai-Ling Lui Woo; and to the Honorable Edward J.B. Calvo, I Maga’lahen Guåhan.

DULY AND REGULARLY ADOPTED BY I MINA'TRENTAI DOS NA LIHEISLURAN GUÅHAN ON THE 22ND DAY OF AUGUST 2014.
