Notes:
 1/ Based on comments received from the DOAg, there would be no economic impact from the adoption of Bill No. 363-37. Any potential fiscal impact would be the result of the implementation of new rules, regulations, and fees for specific segments of the conservation industry as outlined in the Act. Furthermore, additional resources such as manpower, equipment and supplies may be necessary to enforce new mandates brought about from the Act, however, these issues are not specifically addressed in the legislation.
